GOLDEN THREADS.

In the warp and woof of every life,
There runs a thread of gold;
And thread by thread, through worldly strife
Weaves a web of history untold.

In every heart there is woven a web,
With colors of every hue;
With love and there a golden thread,
Which time can never undo.

Many are the actions, thoughts and deeds
Which weave the mystic web;
And plan in every heart the seeds,
Which make a golden thread.

With some 'tis only a filmy web,
And the strands are far apart;
Dimly shine the golden thread,
Through a cold and stony heart.

But with some this web is glittering fair,
And thick with golden threads;
The shuttle of life is weaving there,
The glittering strands in golden webs.

A heart is often loaded with care,
And the web has a darkened hue,
And life has many trials to bear,
With a history of sorrows too true.

The threads are often dim and frail,
And speak of sorrow untold;
And the web in the heart is a mystic veil.

With only a shadow of gold,
We live as it were a dream of life,
And the web each day we weave,
Should rise o'er toil, care and strife,
And golden threads each golden thread will heal.

WASHINGTON.

Affairs at the Capital as Reported by our Regular Correspondent.

If the Democrats had submitted the selection of their Presidential candidate to a vote of the Republicans of the country there is no doubt that Cleveland would have received a majority of the votes, from the simple reason that nine out of ten of them think him the easiest man in the Democratic party to beat. It is not therefore surprising that his nomination by the Chicago Convention should have been received by the Republicans with the liveliest satisfaction and the greatest enthusiasm.

Aside from the few Democrats who held office under him which they blindly and without reason hope to get again, his nomination was like a wet blanket to his party; they knew that the convention nominated him, not because he was considered the strongest man, but simply because jealousy and bickering in the party made him the only man upon whom the Delegates could unite. They knew also, and some of them do not hesitate to say so, that he is doomed to defeat; that he cannot carry the single doubtful State, and that he stands a good chance to lose several of the Southern States, because the men who look after the counting of votes in that locality have no desire to see him in the White House again.

Senator Hill will not raise a hand to help Cleveland in New York unless he undergoes a great change. He is reported to have spoken in substance, as follows, to a gentleman who tried to get him to promise to carry the State for Cleveland: "Do you take me for a fool; no power on earth can carry New York for Cleveland, even if I should put forth my best efforts for him I should be charged with being responsible for his defeat, as I was in 1888. As I am to be blamed any way, I prefer to be blamed for doing nothing. The delegates to the Convention nominated him with their eyes open, now let them elect him, if they can."

General Horace Porter, of New York, whose name had been connected with the Chairmanship of the Republican National Committee, came over here this week to tell the President that his private business engagements were such that it would be impossible for him to become Chairman of the National Committee.
He suggested to the President that the proper man for the position, if he could be induced to accept, and he thought he could, was Chauncey M. Depew. This suggestion of Gen.
Porter's is taken to mean that he knows that Mr. Depew will not become Secretary of State, Mr. Depew has had little experience in the actual busy-burly of practical politics, but his work at Minneapolis leaves no doubt of his being fully qualified to become chief executive officer of the National Campaign. The selection of a Chairman to succeed Mr. Clarkson will be made by the National Committee at its meeting here this week, but it will in reality be made by the President, as the Committee always votes for the chairman selected by the Presidential candidate. Land Commissioner Carter, of Montana, is favorably thought of.

Senator Davis, of Minnesota, has introduced a resolution authorizing the President to retaliate upon Canadian vessels using American waters, if the discrimination against the American vessels using Canadian water ways, mentioned in his communication sent to the Senate this week, shall be continued.

Senator Tracy and a party of prominent officials will go to Norfolk to witness the launching of the Sattleship Texas on the 28th inst. The President will hardly be able to go, owing to the pressure of public business.

It is really amusing to hear Democrats who are known to dislike Cleveland worse than an unnamable individual does holy water pretend that they are satisfied with his nomination.

The Senate Committee have been doing some hard work on the appropriation bills, notwithstanding the national convention and about the hottest spell of June weather experienced in Washington for years. This week the postoffice bill and the agricultural bill have been completed and reported to the Senate. Both of them have a number of amendments, made necessary by the aliphad manner in which they passed the House.

It is now expected that Congress will all adjourn about the last week in July.

MT. PLEASANT.

As this place is always up with any place in the county, I will send you a few items for publication.

Rev. W. G. Stewart filled his regular appointment at this place last Sunday and gave us a very able discourse.

H. C. Crowder will teach our fall school for us. This will be his second term here.

L. W. Taylor is doing a good business with his mill, and giving general satisfaction, as he always does in every thing.

Sam Raftery, of Selet, had two very fine horses stolen a few nights ago.

Will Parks is all smiles, it is a ten pound boy.

We have a very interesting Bible School at this place that meets at 3 o'clock every Sunday evening, also a good class in vocal music.

The Ohio county F. & L. U. will meet at this place the 7 & 8, of July, a large delegation is expected. A Committee will meet Delegates Wednesday evening and assign them their homes during the meeting.

Wheat is good; oats and corn look well, health very good, nobody got time to visit or marry.

Wishing your paper success I will close.

In Memory

Of J. Herbert Lowe, who departed this life May 25, '92. He was in his 21st year. He professed faith in Christ in March '89, and united with the M. E. Church, in which he lived a faithful member until death. Oh, it was very hard to give him up, but God thought best to take him away now while young; his short life was one worthy example.

Funeral services were conducted by Revs. W. E. Cook and G. J. Bean, before a large and sympathizing audience. He was a faithful member of the Sunday School and will be greatly missed. We all sympathize with the family in this their sad bereavement. May God so watch and care o'er each of them that they may be ready when the angel of death calls them to meet Herbert in a world where there's no sorrow, no strife, but all peace, joy and happiness.

In Memory

Of little Charlie, son of Frank and Dee Rowe, died June the 11th, aged 1 year and a few days. He was a bright little boy and was loved by all who knew him.

Mother, your darling's voice is hushed, thy warm true heart is still, and on thy young and innocent brow is resting death's cold chill. His hands are clasped upon his breast. We have kissed his lovely brow, and in our aching hearts we know we have no darling now. His little crib is empty now, his little clothing laid by, mother's hopes, a father's joy, in death clad arms does lie. Go little pilgrim to thy home on yonder blissful shore. We miss you, but soon will come where we will part no more.
We lay him in a silent tomb, sweet blossom of a day; we just began to view the bloom when Charlie was called away, at length, released from all his pain. Our darling sleeps how calm and peaceful he reposes while Christ his soul doeth keep. B. J.

FREAKS IN ADS.

Unconscious Adsurdity in Some Public Notices.

Terms of Construction That would Make Limley Harry Turn and Green in His Grave.

(Saturday Mail).

Ever since man has taken upon himself the dignity of a civilized being, he has recognized the importance and necessity of public notices, and as society has advanced and its wants and interests increased, so have the number and variety of advertisements multiplied, until to-day advertising has become an art in itself, and each man is trying to out-do his neighbor in the novelty and elaboration of his "ad."

Among the thousands of notices that appear in the daily papers, it is by no means surprising that we should occasionally come across some that do not smatter of the elegance and correctness that are want to charac-terize the modern public announcements, but afford a refreshment and amusing diversion, as, for example, the following in a country newspaper:

"Wanted—A small boy to scrub floors and two hired men."

It is, of course, to be presumed that the small boys who answered this advertisement were sufficiently well acquainted with the colloquialism of their town to understand that their duties would be limited to scrubbing floors.

Another example of deficient syntax, which by the way, appeared in a city paper, produces a somewhat startling effect, and puts the advertiser in position of a curio hunter or a lunatic:

"A gentleman occupying a large, comfortable room, would like a congenial companion heated by steam."

Instances of this kind are numerous.

Here is another, which puts the old gentleman mentioned in the light of a pilgrimage, both of clothes and feathers:

"Information wanted as to the whereabouts of one Samuel Green, who wandered from his home, No.
2012—street, with a Roman nose, and a slouch hat."

Such laxity of sententious construction is to be met with even in obituary notices, although, perhaps excusable on the ground of mental perturbation as the result of overwhelming grief:

"Died, Jno. W. Hunter, who leaves three children with the consumption and his mother."

Obituary notices are frequently embellished with rhymes, for death has the happy effect of awakening the slumbering genius of poetry, and many a poet who was born to blush unseen contemplates the design of nature by making a public spectacle of himself in the manner of the following, which appeared in a weekly newspaper in the wilds of Pennsylvania:

"Dear little Susie, she's gone away!
She's gone for good, and she's gone to stay."

Religion is sometimes, either directly or accidentally, made to serve a somewhat profane purpose.

At a Sunday School fair the walls of the hall were placarded with various announcements of the attractions and prices, and among them was the tempting notice:

"Supper, 25 cents."

This was hung directly below the notice:

"The Lord will provide."

This only demonstrates that man holds nothing too sacred when he has his way to make in the world, and is liable to resort to any means that will conduce to his earthly welfare or happiness. Perhaps the most startling example of this spirit is that of a certain founder, who advertises himself in a cemetery.

"Sacred to the memory of Sara B., wife of Thomas B. Brown, who built the iron fence about this lot, and will be pleased to furnish estimates for similar work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Write for prices or call at 22 First street. Orders by mail and telephone promptly attended to."

A modern little sign in this city makes the following remarkable announcement:

"Boots blacked inside."

This equaled by another, where the number of the shops is made to create false impression, and at first leaves the reader to suppose that the proprietor is in business simply for the fun of it:

"623 suits pressed and cleaned for $1.00."

Among the great variety of entertaining and novel advertisements to be seen in the papers and magazines nowadays, one that appears in a western paper some time since is worthy of special notice:

"And it was on the third day of the tenth month, and the sun no longer comforted the spirit of the fat man nor oppressed the soul of the lean man, for the chill winds that high them out of Manitoba came down upon the town without warning and tossed roughly with the whistler of many an improvident citizen. Then up rose John H. Jones, a merchant of the town, who said: "These beautiful silk-lined overcoats, which I did intend to sell you for $15, I now offer for $10, for the sun hath melted the profit and I will cut them down even to $5 and a 50 cents; age, even 5 shillings and 5 shillings in lawful money of the realm will buy you one of these elegant garments.

Selah!"

The morning Chronicle published in London of July 17, 1894, contains the annexed modest notice:

"Agoutleman whose literary productions have met public approval, undertakes to conduct epistolary correspondence, where correctness and elegance of style are necessary; whether on familiar topics, on business or on courtship. He pledges himself to the strictest secrecy. Whatever the subject, no confidence will be abused, no matter divulged. He presumed he could use a strain the best adapted to display the feelings of the heart and attain the object. Apply to Mr.
Rander, South Windmill street."

Here is another no less unassuming, which attracted public attention in 1712:

"At the Old Lilly, near the Barge house, in Christchurch parish, Southwark, at London liveth Francis Moore, license physician and student in astrology, who, by the blessing of God, cures all sorts of aches and agrees one dose in young and old when left off by others. He hath an excellent medicine for fits in young people or children. He hath an excellent tooth powder and a family tincture that gives present ease to colic and carries off all pains in an instant. He gives judgment in the astrological way. He desires that all that send him out of the country, upon their own business, to pay the postage of their letters or expect no answer."

The Daily Advertiser of April 1894, contains the following, which for cool, brazen impudence, is worthy of notice:

"Marriage is to some a happy state, to others the reverse. The unfortunate writer of this is placed in the latter situation, lately united to one of a disposition contrary to hisself. She is lively and young, and now so very miserable, that she hopes will meet with pity and not censure from the other sex. The person to whom it is addressed must be a gentleman possessed of fortune, generosity, agreeable deportment and be resolved to keep this an inviolable secret. He must present the lady with 100 pounds settle a yearly income on her, to take place one twelvemonth after acquaintance has commenced. Address Mrs.
Smith, etc."

The Weekly Journal of 1717 contains an advertisement which goes far ahead of even the most wonderful and conceited notices of to-day:

"At her house, the Red Ball in Queen street, Cheapside, liveth a Gentlewoman that hath a most incomparable wash to beautify the face, which far exceeds all that are extant. It takes out all manner of wrinkles, pimples, redness, morpheus, sunburn and yellowness caused by mercurial poisonous washes; it also plumbs and softens the skin, making it as smooth and tender as a sucking child's; the

A Partial Change.

For almost three years I have labored to establish a Republican organ in the county. With the record of the failures in this line behind us, and the consequent distrust, even among Republicans, which at first attended the enterprise, most of our readers know we have not always had a cloudless sky. Yet, I never doubted ultimate success and am proud to say to the friends who have stood by us so faithfully through storm and sunshine, that the paper is now past quicksand, is on a paying basis, and may be considered a permanent institution.

Mr. Alex Barnett, to whom I have sold my interest, is a true and tried Republican, and I feel sure the party can depend upon the new firm to do everything honorable to uphold the paper and the imperishable principles it maintains.

I am grateful to those liberal-minded Democrats who patronized us during my connection with the REPUBLICAN, and to one and all who have aided us financially and with kind words of encouragement. I return my heart-felt thanks. Resp'y, April 15, C. M. BARNETT.

Another Change.

In assuming the exclusive ownership and control of the REPUBLICAN, having purchased the remaining half interest of Alex Barnett, it is but just to remark that I can not hope to bring to the paper the ability and experience which, until a few months ago, were actively connected with it. But, notwithstanding these misgivings, it shall be my earnest and only aim to give to the people of Ohio county and the Fourth Congressional District a model newspaper.

Sincerely grateful for the kind words and patronage so liberally bestowed during the few months of my newspaper life and hoping for faithful and energetic efforts to merit a continuance of both, I am, respectfully,

JO. B. ROGERS.

LOOKOUT for the biggest Fair this fall ever held in Ohio county.

HARDINSBURG has a curiosity. It's a negro who eats glass, nails and tacks.

A FULL turn out of the county and precinct committeemen is desired at the meeting Tuesday, the 5th.

THE President has appointed John W. Foster, of Indiana, Secretary of State to succeed Mr. Blaine.

THE Louisville Sunday Star came out last issue in a fine new dress. The Star is rapidly rising in popular favor and has a bright future before it.

R. Y. THOMAS is in trouble again at Central City and as usual is on the wrong side. Bob has surely outlived his usefulness if he ever had any, which is very doubtful.

ANTON BURHOFF, a well-to-do farmer, living near Evansville, was bitten by a mad-dog Tuesday and died a horrible death a few hours later. Two other persons bitten will probably recover.

DUN's weekly review of trade shows improvement at many points. Reports from the South, however, are no less hopeful. Growing crops are in splendid condition and the wheat yield promises to be enormous.

REV. GEORGE DENNIS, a Methodist minister at Louisville, was struck by a moving train last Thursday and horribly mangled. It will be remembered that he preached in this county several years ago and his acquaintances will learn with regret of the distressing accident.

THE State Teachers Association at Paducah was the most successful meeting in the history of the organization. W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville, was elected President; McHenry Rhoads, Frankfort, Vice President; R. H. Carothers, Louisville, Secretary, and T. C. Frogge, Hopkinsville, Treasurer. Owing to a rush of work in the Superintendent's office we could not attend, but we are glad to state that three of Ohio county's energetic teachers were present: Mrs. Julia Wedding, Misses Lucy Townsend and Maggie Williams.

Mr. Moses R. GLENN, of the Central City Herald and Miss Sallie T. Jeannette, of Bevier, were married at the Methodist Church at the latter place last Sunday. We desire to congratulate both on the excellent choice each has made and to wish that life's sweetest pleasures may be theirs.

WHILE driving to a Liberal Club Meeting last Saturday, Gladstone was struck in the eye with a stone, his followers claiming it was thrown by an enemy of Home Rule. Politics in this country is not enough sometimes to be very entertaining, but when it comes to throwing stones we'll beg leave of absence and will in no wise be in it.

OLD Grayson came to the front Monday, and nominated a very strong ticket. Mr. N. A. Simpson for Sheriff and Mr. Ansel Byers for Circuit Clerk will make as strong a team as could be found anywhere. They are competent to fill the offices and are energetic and highly respected citizens. Here's to the success of the ticket in old Grayson.

THE Democracy have put themselves on record again, in favor of their pet hobby "to the victor belong the spoils," by nominating Headman Stevenson, who was Lord High Executioner of Republican officials during the Cleveland Administration. Boss Croker in speaking of him says the Democrats like him because, when in office, he believed in turning Republicans out.

In speaking of our talented young poetess, Miss Lizzie Walker, the Henderson Gleaner passes this glowing tribute:

"On the second page of this impression of the Gleaner will be found an excellent picture of Miss Lizzie Walker, the gifted young poetess of Hartford, Kentucky.

"Miss Walker for one so young has proven her wonderful genius by an equally wonderful rapid progress in the field of poetic literature. Her name is not confined to the limits of her native State, but is to be found classed among those of national fame. Miss Walker is a pet of the Gleaner and in her advancement it rejoices equally with those nearest and dearest to her."

LEITCHFIELD.

June 28.—The Republicans of Grayson county met here to-day in convention and nominated N. A. Simpson for Sheriff and Ansel Byers for Clerk of Circuit Court and indorsed W. H. Stoy for District Attorney and selected Delegates for the Congressional Convention.

The county ticket is considered the strongest that could have been made and a sure winner.

We had some good speeches by the Republicans of the county, and everything passed off very harmoniously, and everyone well pleased with the Convention and the ticket. But we were asked to get through the work as soon as possible and give up the Court Hall for a speech by Mr. Langford, who is speaking in the interest of Reform, and if there ever was a speech made in the State for Reform, it was surely made by the venerable gentleman, Mr. Langford. He said that the Reforms must come and the offices we must have and if we can't get them one way we must another. But this he modified somewhat by saying there was a class who would resort to anything for anything. Leaving us to infer that all the Wheelers were not in favor of anarchy, but most of them were. A great many of them went home saying if this man is allowed to speak all over the county he will kill the institution. The venerable gentleman said he never went to school a day in his life, never owned a dollar's worth of property and never expected to, but he was around educating the people. Don't you imagine he is the right man in the right place, if he means to teach them anarchy. And we have been informed this spell-binder has been employed to canvass this county to make these harangues. But Harrison and Reid are the banner we love to see this year on the trees, and you may expect to see a good report from old Grayson in November.

ABBIEVILLE.

June 27. We have just returned from a most pleasant trip to Pleasant Ridge, where we had gone to be present at the closing exercises of Prof. I. S. Mason's Select School, and are now on our way to Paducah to attend the State Teachers Association, which convenes there the 28, 29, and 30th, of this month.

To give a description of the exercises of Prof. Mason's School would require more time than I can now command, but suffice it to say, we never witnessed greater evidence of thorough and enthusiastic work than has been done during the five months of this school, than these exercises evinced. The Gold Ring offered to the lady delivering the best oration was awarded to Miss Ella B. Crowe, Newville, and the History offered to the gentleman for the best oration was awarded to Mr. A. B. Taylor, of Waller. While these orations were most excellent in sentiment and delivery, several others were hardly less meritorious. The School will open again this fall with brighter prospects, and will be conducted by Prof. Mason and Crowe, both highly educated, persevering young men and thoroughly imbued with a zeal to raise the standard of the schools of Kentucky. Mr. C. M. Crow has just returned from Danville, Ind., where he has been attending one of the best schools in the country. His address delivered at the exercises Thursday night on Success and Failure was a masterpiece and evinces a wide range of thought and speculation.

Miss Minnie Ashby is visiting the family of her brother, A. M. Ashby, White Plains.

Elmer Williams has been employed to teach the Buford school this winter. Miss Ella Crow will teach the school at Red Hill.

Misses Oma and Lida Carson, Messrs Sherman Condict, Herman Pirtle and Talley Carson, Abbeville, attended the exercises at Pleasant Ridge, Saturday night. Misses Lattie Pirtle and Tessie Tichenor, and Messrs. Brice Heflin and Elmer Williams, went Friday night.

Miss Florence Rowan visited her aunt, Mrs. Hattie Field, Buford, this week.

Quite a number of people from this neighborhood attended preaching at Bethel Church Sunday. GRAZIA.

KINDERHOOK.

June 27.—Wheat cutting is the order of the day; from the prospects now "the yield will be good; corn is looking well, and health of the community is good, so Kinderhook is in a flourishing condition.

Mrs. Belle Snell, Horton, was in Kinderhook one night last week, the guest of her father, G. W. Maple.

Miss Lottie Sorrels, Cromwell, and Mrs. Annie Baird, Horse Branch, visited the family of S. L. Baird last week.

Mrs. Steve Bennett, Boda, visited in Kinderhook one day last week, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Lillian Baird.

Mrs. Wm. Edwards, No Creek, spent the day with Mrs. Bettie Maple one day last week.

Misses Mattie Luce and Cheast Graham, Hartford, attended the quarterly meeting at Washington Sunday.

Miss Ella Hocker, Curdsville, Daviess county, is visiting friends and relatives in the community.

D. L. Smith and little daughter, Miss Jessie, Owensboro, are in the neighborhood at this writing.

There was a large crowd attended quarterly meeting, which convened at Washington Sunday. A delicious dinner was spread on the ground and was highly enjoyed by all who attended.

Great many of our good people contemplate on attending the soldier's reunion, which will be held at Cromwell the 4th of July.

With best wishes to the REPUBLICAN, I am still DAISY DEANE.

Resolutions.

At a call meeting of Cromwell Lodge, No. 420, F. & A. M., the Worshipful Master announced the sad news of the death of our beloved brother, J. J. Leach, whereupon, a Committee was appointed to draft suitable resolutions, to whom we respectfully submit the following:

WHEREAS, The great Master of the Universe has seen fit in His allwise providence to call away from our midst our much beloved brother, J. J. Leach, from labor to the refreshing presence of the Master of the Universe, RESOLVED, That in the death of brother J. J. Leach, we have lost a worthy, energetic, working brother, the community a generous neighbor, and his family an affectionate husband and loving father.

RESOLVED, That the heartfelt sympathy of the fraternity is hereby extended to his bereaved wife and family, and we commend them to go to the only source of true comfort in this, their great hour of affliction.

RESOLVED, That we wear the usual badge of mourning for the space of thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our Lodge, and a copy be presented to the bereaved family, and printed in the Hartford Republican and Hartford Herald. Respectfully submitted,

W. G. DUNCAN, } Com.

HARDINSBURG.

June 28.—Miss Mary E. Bowmer, who has been attending the conservatory of music at Cincinnati, returned home, Saturday, June 18.

Mr. , a Japanese student at Vanderbilt University, lectured at the M. E. Church, South, June 22d, on the manners and customs and religion of his native land.

Taylor Atwood and Kate Scott, a colored woman, were brought into the Mayor's Court June 23, and fined for using insulting language and being disorderly.

Horace Allen, of Utah Territory, came to this town June 24. He is a son of Alfred Allen, deceased.

A negro man came into town recently who claimed that he could eat glass, nails, tacks, etc. No one believed it. A purse was made up, however, and he was tested. He undoubtedly did swallow down glass after he had chewed it well, together with nails and tacks.

The County Judge ought to protect the Court House square. It is a beautiful place, and an ornament to the town; being well set in grass and having a row of good shaped maple trees around it. Last year the grass was killed in large spots by crowds of "loafers." It seems that there will be a repetition of the fact this year. Loafers should be made to keep off the grass.

The Misses Adkisson entertained quite a number of their friends at their home on Friday evening, June 24. The party was given in honor of Miss Emma Moseley. Refreshments were served and all spent a pleasant evening.

Rev. E. L. Shepherd, Presiding Elder of the M. E. Church District Conference, was in town June 24th, en route to Fairview, where Quarterly Conference was held Saturday and Sunday. Quite a number of our people were there.

B. F. Beard, delegate to the Democratic Convention at Chicago, returned Saturday, June 25.

J. H. Lennin, editor of the Republican of this place, in speaking of the speech of McMillin at this place, says: "If the Rev. gentleman is a good effective preacher, he had better return to the sacred calling, for he certainly is a failure in the political arena." Lennin is running the Republican as the organ of the People's Party in this county. A year or so ago he was running the paper in the interest of the Republican party. He was supposed to be doing so, at least, although if he ever accomplished any good for that party we don't know what it was. At that time, however, he was what we would term a "bloody shirt" Republican. Of late, however, things have changed and editor Lennin has also changed. He is now one of the most blatant Third Party men that we know of. As editor of a Republican paper he proved a signal failure; as editor of a Third party paper he is also making a "bad out." "If the Rev. gentlemen is a good effective preacher, he had better return to the sacred calling, for he certainly is a failure in the political arena."

ROCKPORT.

W. D. Coleman was in town Tuesday.

G. W. Rowe and family, Centertown, visited Mrs. D. J. Duncan Saturday and Sunday.

Mount Stum was in town a short while Thursday.

Morton Yonts, one of Greenville's young lawyers was in Rockport Monday after a week's fishing at Rochester. We predict for him a brilliant future after his description of the way the suckers bit at his bait.

The deck hands on the steamer, Rescue, struck Monday, because they said they were tired. They should have had some "tarred" feelings.

Misses Ella and Maggie Duncan, McHenry, visited Mrs. Stephens at Echols. They and their escorts came to Rockport on Tuesday night to an ice cream supper.

E. C. Reitz, formerly a member of the firm of John A. Reitz & Son, Evansville, and who was very popular among his acquaintances in Ohio county, was drowned while descending Green River, Colorado, two weeks ago.

Estis Taylor, Beaver Dam, brought his fine horse, Hinigar, over Saturday and placed him with Sam Johnson, our expert trainer. The horse already has fair speed as a trotter and will no doubt in a year or so be one of the fastest in this part of the State.

Married, at Shinkle Chapel Church last Wednesday evening, Mr. Albert Chinn to Miss Adeline Baird, by Rev. J. A. Bennett. Mr. Chinn is a deserving, energetic young man, while his bride is an accomplished young lady. We, with their many friends, join in wishing them a long, successful and happy life.

The REPUBLICAN is not much given to boasting, but it wishes to call attention to the Fair Program turned out by the office this week. It is, but fair to say, that it is a neat job of work, and that our foreman, Mr. S. A. Anderson, is an excellent young printer. If you wish job work neatly and quickly done, bring it to the REPUBLICAN.

Last Tuesday week Mr. G. S. Neabitt and Miss Katie King, of Tallapoosa, Ga., were married at the home of the bride's father, W. T. King. Miss Kate is deservedly popular in her Georgia home, as she was with us, and her many friends are pleased to know of the happy union she has made with one of Tallapoosa's best young men.

The barbecue at Beaver Dam last Saturday was not largely attended, but the evening was pleasantly spent by the jolly crowd. The funniest thing of the day was the throwing at the dolls by some of Beaver Dam's and Rosine's fair damsels. Everything but the dolls was in danger, but there was no damage done, other than the loss of a few balls. The hop at the Masonic Hall at night was a success and largely attended.

Don't fail to attend the Races next Monday at the Fair Ground.

Clint G. Ford.
The Memphis Ledger has the following to say about the Dramatic Company that will play at the Court House during the Fair this fall: "That rising young comedian Clint G. Ford who has made his play, 'An American Hero,' famous all over this country, is in the city en route to Detroit, where he will rest for the summer, enjoy the lake breezes and come again in the fall. In 'An American Hero' his impersonation has won golden opinions from every one. Mr. Ford has many friends in Memphis and the South who love him for his kindly qualities and applaud him for his genius. Mr. Ford is a guest of the Peabody Hotel."

The Hartford Trade Palace offers to its patrons for the next 30 days with every $15.00 cash sale A BEAUTIFUL ENGRAVED SILVER ORNAMENT, useful in every household, and keeps named goods on exhibition at the store. Come and take this rare opportunity.

The horses continued to run until the tongue of the wagon struck a tree, completely demolishing the tongue and other parts of the wagon, also turning the horses a somersault or two. The runaway did not hurt anyone, but such a sudden stopping jarred the horses up considerably.

WHY DO YOU COUGH?
Do you know that a little cough is a dangerous thing? Are you aware that it often fastens on the lungs and far too often runs into Consumption and ends in Death? People suffering from Asthma, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Consumption will all tell you that

To Our Subscribers.
The special announcement which appeared in our columns some time since, announcing a special arrangement with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., of Enosburg Falls, Vt., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and His Diseases," whereby our subscribers were enabled to obtain a copy of that valuable work free of charge by sending their address to B. J. Kendall Co. and enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same, is renewed for a limited period. We trust all will avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining this valuable work. To every lover of the Horse it is indispensable, as it treats in a simple manner all of the diseases which afflict the noble animal. Its phenomenal sale throughout the United States and Canada, makes it standard authority. Mention this paper when sending for "Treatise."

CLOVERPORT.

June 25.—Miss Aline Murray is visiting friends in Winchester, Ky. Miss Katie Bowmer is spending a week in Henderson, with her sister, Mrs. Burk.

Miss Nannie Murray is in Owensboro visiting her friend, Miss Jobine, and will go from there to Winchester for a few weeks.

It is given to your correspondent by one who is in position to know, that Judge John Allen Murray may be a candidate for the Circuit Judgeship in this Circuit against McBeth and Stone.

The Masonic Order gave an excursion to Louisville last Sunday the object was to see the Home and how it was conducted. The excursion was well attended by the Masons, their wives and children.

Dick Hudson, chief engineer of the L. St. L. & T. R. R. has moved his headquarters to this place. From now on this will be the permanent headquarters of the engineering department of the road.

Will Ramsey, Deputy Sheriff, and a few other good Democrats, left last Sunday to attend the Democratic National Convention.

Some of our citizens were on the war path Sunday. Tom Adams, a colored man, and John Jackson, white, got into an altercation that terminated in Adams shooting at Jackson twice without any other effect than giving him a bad scare. Several other affairs occurred Saturday night and Sunday, none of which resulted in any one being hurt.

Male and Female Brains.

There can be no doubt that in the matter of weight there is a marked difference between the male and female brains. The difference corresponds to a difference in size. The female brain in human creatures is smaller than that of the male, and it is also lighter. The difference in weight, according to the London Hospital, is considerable. The average man's brain is between four and five ounces heavier than the average woman's. The reason, it is said, is that the woman is smaller than the man in size and weight. That accounts partly for the difference, but not entirely. It is shown by many and careful observations that if women were as tall as men, and as heavy, the average weight of their brains would still be smaller than that of men by more than an ounce. The diminished size and weight of the brain is said to be a fundamental sexual distinction in the human species. It is not peculiar to civilized men and woman, but is found universally among savages, wherever sufficient observation has been made.

The difference in weight did not exhaust the catalogue of diversities. There is said to be also a difference of balance between the various parts of the compared brains. The occipital lobes, which presides chiefly over the physical functions of the organism, are declared to be more voluminous in the female than in the male, a physiological fact which is contrary to common belief. A third striking diversity is that the white matter of brain, which has no thought function, is almost identical in weight in the two sexes, the specific gravity of the gray or thought matter is decidedly higher in the male than in the female. It appears to be a questionable that in purely intellectual endowment the man is superior to woman. On the other hand, in the equally noble emotional capacity the woman is superior to man. If these be the facts, as they certainly appear to be, it is well that both of the sexes should recognize and make the best they can of them.

We'll write it down till everybody sees it. Till everybody is sick of seeing it. Till everybody knows it without seeing it—that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of chronic catarrh in the head, catarrh of the head, and "cold in the head." In perfect faith, its makers, the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N. Y., offers to pay $500 to any one suffering from chronic catarrh in the head whom they cannot cure.

Now if the conditions were reversed—if they asked you to pay $500 for a positive cure you might hesitate. Here are reputable men, with years of honorable dealing; thousands of dollars and a great name back of them and they say—"We can cure you because we've cured thousands of others like you—if we can't cure," we will pay you $500 for the knowledge that there's one whom we can't cure.

They believe in themselves. Isn't it worth a trial. Isn't any trial preferable to catarrh?

Teaching the Baby to Walk.

People sometimes ask, at what time can we seat a child in a chair; when put him on his legs; how old must he be before we teach him to walk? The answers are easy, says the Popular Science Monthly. He must not be made to sit until he has spontaneously sat up in his bed and has been able to hold his seat.

This sometimes happens in the sixth or seventh month, sometimes later. The sitting position is not without danger, even when he takes it to himself; imposed prematurely upon him, it tires the backbone, and may interfere with the growth. So the child should never be taught to stand or to walk.

That is his affairs, not ours. Place him on a carpet in a healthy room or in the open air, and let him play in freedom, roll, try to go ahead on his hands and feet, or go backward, which he will do more successfully at first; it all gradually strengthens and hardens him. Some day he will manage to get upon his knees, another day to go forward upon them, and then to raise himself up against the chairs. He thus learns to do all he can, as fast as he can, and no more.

But they say, he will be longer in learning to walk if he is left to go on his knees or hands and feet indefinitely. What difference does it make if, exploring the world in this way, he becomes acquainted with things, learns to estimate distance, strengthen his legs and back; prepares himself, in short, to walk better when he gets to walking? The important thing is not whether he walks now or then, but that he learn to guide himself, to help himself, and to have confidence in himself. I hold, without exaggeration, that education of this character is going on at the same time with training in locomotion, and that the way one learns to walk is not without moral importance.

SULPHUR SPRINGS.

Wheat harvest is about over and we have a fair crop of plump grains. Corn is looking fine on the up land, but rather badly in the lowlands, oats look exceeding well, grass is fine.

Mrs. Nancy Petty, wife of J. W. Petty, died on Tuesday the 21st, inst., of that fell destroyer, consumption. Her remains were interred in the Mt. Vernon Cemetery in the presence of a large number of sorrowing friends on the following day. She leaves a husband and two sons, both grown to manhood, who have our condolence.

Our school for the ensuing term is to be under the management of Prof. D. H. Godsey.

Prof. Henry Leach, who taught for us last term, visited us and many of his former students this week, but he was not in request of a school as might be inferred. He and McPorter will have charge of the McHenry school this coming term. Come and visit us again Mr. Leach, you will always be welcome among your old students.

Wm. Westerfield, who has been for the last 100 days in Prof. Mason's select school, at Pleasant Ridge, will be at home in a few days. He will perhaps teach at Magan the ensuing term.

Miss Bertha Felix will teach at Sunydale this fall. Mr. Mills will teach at Magruder. James Fitzhugh at Shrauder's.

A fine Catholic Church is under contract to be built in 100 days by James Magan. It is located on the Hardinsburg road about two miles South of Barretts Ferry.

The abutments for the iron bridge, at Barretts Ferry, is progressing slowly.

Miss Nora Daniel will go on an extended visit to relatives and friends in Evansville about the 28th.

Laura Johnston will visit her friend at Cromwell about the 3d, prox.

Mrs. Margaret Landrum, who has been on an extended visit among us, will join her husband in Arkansas in the near future.

The Journal acknowledges the receipt of admission tickets to the spring meeting of the Overland Jockey club at Denver. While the meeting promises to be an interesting one, and the attendance large, our alleged horse editor is too busy looking after the religious interest of the Journal and doing the snake work to take an overland trip to Denver. If the club has no objection, we will use the badge sent us for a clay pigeon at the next shooting tournament, and get all the fun possible out of it.
